TO THE HONORABLE COURT AND ALL PARTIES OF RECORD:

Plaintiff Todd R. G. Hill respectfully submits this Notice to preserve the procedural record regarding pending submissions through the Court’s Electronic Document Submission System (EDSS) that, as of April 29, 2025, at 10:00 AM PDT, have not been reflected on the Court’s public docket.

CASE 2:23-CV-01298-JLS-BFM

1                   b. Date Submitted: April 28, 2025

3           Each of the above filings was timely submitted via EDSS, and Plaintiff received confirmation of 4 receipt through the system.

6           Each of these filings addresses procedurally and substantively material matters, including
7 clarification of evidentiary positions, preservation of due process objections related to docket timing,
8 and opposition to contested judicial notice requests. Plaintiff respectfully notes that the April 26
9 submission, though falling on a Saturday, was properly submitted in advance of the next business day
10 and remains formally pending.
11

12           As these submissions directly intersect with pending dispositive motions and judicial notice
13 matters, Plaintiff respectfully requests an administrative update confirming their receipt, docket
14 status, and anticipated consideration by the Court. The integrity of the record—particularly with 15 respect to dispositive adjudication timelines—requires full visibility of these materials.

18           Without making any allegation of impropriety, Plaintiff respectfully notes that material filings
19 submitted via EDSS on April 22, 2025, supported by confirmed tracking numbers, remained
20 undocketed at the time the Court issued a dispositive ruling.

22           Regardless of subsequent docket activity or administrative explanation, the procedural 23 significance of those submissions lies in their timely transmission and substantive relevance to 24 pending motions. Due process is measured not by retrospective docket updates, but by whether the 25 Court considered all timely submissions before adjudicating dispositive matters. Plaintiff expressly preserves all procedural objections arising from adjudication based on an incomplete record, including any attempt, formal or implied, to retroactively validate dispositive rulings without timely consideration of the submissions referenced herein.

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: April 29, 2025
